NAVAGRAHA SHANTI PUJA

Shanti Pujan or Sampoorna Mahapujan?

Both are your own ceremony for all nine grahas, performed in full, in your name and gotra. The Sampoorna Mahapujan is the deeper of the two: each graha is worshipped on its own, and the challenge you name is given extra attention.

Which suits you?

SHANTI PUJAN

When life asks for balance

When several parts of life feel unsettled at once, or before a new chapter: a move, a venture, a big decision. All nine grahas are honoured together, by the full procedure.

OUR SUGGESTION · SAMPOORNA MAHAPUJAN

When one challenge stands out and presses hard

In relationships, in health, or opposition that will not ease. Rarely is one graha alone behind it; results come from how the grahas act on one another. The Mahapujan worships all nine, each on its own, and the grahas behind your challenge receive extra attention in the jaap.

After you book

1. You share the names and gotra for the sankalp and, for the Mahapujan, the challenge to focus on.
2. The pandits perform the pujan and the havan in your name and gotra. You do not need to be present.
3. Photos and a recording of your sankalp are sent to you.
